

Great Antiques, Music and Food at the 17th Annual Festival!!

The Anderson County Chamber of Commerce is pleased to host the 17th Annual Clinch River Fall Antique Festival on October 13th & 14th in Historic Downtown Clinton, TN.

On Friday evening, Oct. 13th from 6-9pm, there will be food vendors in the Hoskins/Lane Park, as well as a "Cruze-In" for muscle cars on Market Street sponsored by Fox Toyota, Ray Varner Ford and Rusty Wallace Chevrolet. The antique shops, specialty shops and eateries will be open late. This year's entertainment will be provided by "The Tenos" playing in Hoskins/Lane Park from 7 - 9 p.m. Opening for the early birds at 5:30 p.m. will be "Wheeler", a local band out of Oliver Springs. Don't forget to bring your lawn chairs! Admission and parking for the evening's festivities are free. Cars that participate in the "Cruze-In" are asked to donate $10 to the Education Foundation for Clinton City and Anderson County Schools.

On Saturday, October 14th from 9 a.m.-5 p.m., over 90 antique dealers and artisans will line the streets in the historic district for an old-time street festival. Dealers from throughout the southeast will gather to provide shoppers and visitors a great selection of antiques and collectibles. Antique appraiser, Joe Rosson will be on hand to appraise your treasures in the Clinton Antique Mall for $5 per item from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. Joe Rosson is a well-known antique appraiser and has been featured on PBS programs such as "Treasures In Your Attic" and "Antiques Roadshow." Beautiful antique cars and trucks will be on display on Main Street. There will be a delicious variety of foods in the "Hoskins/Lane Park" food court with several new food vendors. A Kid's Fun Area

The Tenos "At nine years old, Andy wanted to play the banjo and inspired his brothers, Will and Sam to begin playing the Banjo and Mandolin. Soon, sister Leah was playing the fiddle and mom and dad joined in on guitar and bass. They have since been seen at the Museum of Appalachia, Dollywood, Ciderville and other venues!" Their music consists of traditional bluegrass, old time, and gospel songs that you will love and enjoy!"

Ribbon Cuttings

Advance Financial opened their new location with a great event. Manager Kaitlyn Smith is seen cutting the ribbon while the local 4H club and Representative John Ragan watch. The company gave a check to the local 4H and school supplies to the new teacher's depot since coming to Clinton.

State Farm Trey McAdams is opened for business in their new location. Trey is accompanied by his wife, as he cuts the ribbon. A large crowd of Chamber members welcomed Trey and his family to the area and had a great time networking!

Mike Massiglia of State Farm Mike Massiglia had a huge grin as he cut the ribbon for his new business. Mike accompanied by his wife and staff, welcomed a large crowd of Chamber members who didn't let the sprinkling rain dampen their spirits.

Networking Coffee

Aisin Automotive Castings held a networking coffee and took guests on a plant tour. Breakfast was catered by Gordo's Catering and it was delicious! Thank you Aisin staff for being so gracious!

Ray Varner Ford held its annual Chamber Networking Coffee last month and had a wonderful crowd. The group had breakfast catered by Harrison's Restaurant and Ray Varner gave away oil changes and other prizes during the event.

Business After Hours

A Business After Hours was held at the Staybridge Suites in Oak Ridge to celebrate the completion of renovations at their facility. One million dollars was spent on the facility to make it "like new." Chamber members enjoyed a buffet catered by the facility's cooks and toured the facility to see the new gathering area and the renovated rooms.

ACT Prep Workshop

Twenty-one Clinton High seniors and teacher John Robinson joined students from five other East Tennessee Gear Up high schools on September 12th for an ACT Prep Workshop hosted by Walters State in Claiborne County. The event was organized by Danny Satterfield of Union County High School as an effort to prepare students academically and mentally for the October 3rd senior ACT retake. "This was a great opportunity for our students to see that other seniors around the state are working hard on ACT and feeling the same pressure they are to raise their scores. Being college ready takes a lot of effort and we want to encourage our kids every way we can," said Anderson County GEAR UP site coordinator Hoppy Merryman. Students had the opportunity to attend workshops for each ACT subtest as well as sessions on goal setting and keeping their emotions in check in response to scores and expectations. Andrew Akens said he left inspired realizing

"when trying to reach success you have to go further and punch through the goal. Success isn't a destination, it's a process." "It's the process that's gonna get you there", added CHS student Emma Solomon. Free tutoring is available to all seniors at CHS and ACHS to prepare to make their best scores on October 3rd.

CLINTON CITY SCHOOLS

Clinton City Schools Receives Top Score in Student Growth on TN Ready

Each year, districts and schools are held accountable for several metrics. Two of the most common measurements are student achievement and student growth. TVAAS is the term used to show how much students grow academically each year. The expectation is to grow students at least one year in each subject. This metric is measured by taking a student's NCE (normal curve equivalent) from one year and comparing it to the next year. If this number stays the same, then this student achieved one year's growth. If it increases, the student made more than a year's growth. For example, if a student had a 51 normal curve equivalent score as a fourth grader and ended the fifth grade year with a 51 normal curve equivalent score that student would have earned one year's growth.

Districts are rated on a scale of 1-5 based on this data with a 5 being the greatest number for growth. Clinton City Schools received a district-wide composite score of a Level 5 on the new TN Ready assessment. This score means that there was statistically significant evidence that our students made and exceeded the expectation of one year's growth. Typically, TVAAS scores are based on 4th, 5th, and 6th grade data. However, since there was no state testing in 2016, scores this year are based only on 5th and 6th grade scores.

Director Kelly Johnson stated, "We are very proud of our growth progress this past year. This is evidence that teachers differentiate instruction to meet the needs of all students in the classroom to ensure that everyone is growing academically. Throughout the year, we use a variety of assessment measurements to track the growth of our students and adjust instruction accordingly. Due to the size of our system, this metric can sway on extreme ends of the spectrum very easily. Every student counts! We will celebrate this achievement and place our focus on continuing to take students at their current level of instruction and move them along the spectrum as far as possible."

Achievement data should be available towards the end of October. This data will inform parents of their student's performance level in reading, mathematics, and science. No scores will be issued for social studies because the assessment was a field test last year. Scores have been delayed this year since TN Ready is a new test and cut scores have been redefined at the state level. Parent reports are expected by the end of October.

ANDERSON COUNTY SCHOOLS

GEAR UP East Tennessee Regional Kick-off

Six buses loaded with 300 seniors and teachers from across Anderson County traveled to Lincoln Memorial University September 8th for the GEAR UP East Tennessee Regional Kick-off. US Paralympic Track and Field Champion Blake Leeper served as guest speaker encouraging students to set goals and commit to the work required to reach them. "I don't have legs but I am a champion runner," said Leeper, "because I refuse to define myself by what people say I cannot do." Leeper cited teammates as crucial in his winning a gold medal and encouraged students to partner with their support teams in their schools and communities to find success in their college going efforts. The 1000 member audience was greeted by Dr. Jody Goins, a CHS alumnus who serves as LMU's vice president of enrollment. A welcome was also given by Mike Kraus, executive director of the Tennessee Higher Education Commission. Students enjoyed the rest of the day interacting with LMU staff and ambassadors.

INNOVATION ACADEMY

ORAU, a Chamber Community Partner, awarded 38 teachers from 14 East Tennessee schools more than $36,000 on September 11 at the 16th annual ORAU Education Grants ceremony.

The Innovation Academy is proud to announce that math teacher Ginger Sills and English teacher Krista Petrick received 10 Texas Instrument TI-83PLUS Graphing Calculators which will be used by our students. These calculators are valued at $1,200.00.

This is the second year Ms. Sills and Mrs. Petrick received an education grant from ORAU. Last year they, along with counselor Sheila Skeans, received 5 Chromebooks from ORAU. The Innovation Academy staff appreciates ORAU's support of our students and help in obtaining technology for their use.

ROTC PROGRAM

ACHS ROTC Chief Davis, along with student ROTC members, met with a select group of Lake City Middle School 8th graders. The 8th graders were given useful information about the program, including watching a slide show from field trips and learning about activities and routines. Students were able to ask questions and listen to personal experiences from the ROTC members (which consisted of all former LCMS kids). The interaction ignited excitement and curiosity in the minds of the 8th graders, who are looking forward to their high school careers.

3-D Printing Enhances Learning at CES!

STEM is a large focus in Clinton Elementary's sixth grade program. This year, students were welcomed into sixth grade with two new 3-D printers in Mrs. O'Dell's room, an exceptional teacher of social studies and science. This year, students will be applying their math skills experimenting with Science concepts to develop a deep understanding of standards. To get students oriented to the 3-D printers, students worked with a computer imaging program to create a figure. Once their idea was completed on the computer program, they used the 3-D printer to bring their vision into life!

The 3-D printers also allow Mrs. O'Dell to create models for teaching science concepts. Early in the year, she created a 3-D skull model from the printer. If she purchased a similar product from an educational company, it would have cost approximately $50.00. However, her 3-D model was created for only a few dollars! The printers have advanced tremendously over the past few years. The level of detail in the sculptures is amazing!

Students will be utilizing the printers throughout the year as science and math concepts are explored. If you want to see engaged and excited students, who regularly practice critical, analytical, and creative thinking, come see us! The 3-D printers are just one tool that we use to deepen the learning of our students!

ORAU Grant Winners

Oak Ridge Associated University (ORAU) is a tremendous supporter of Clinton City Schools. Each year, they award grants to our classroom teachers to help implement quality science and STEM activities in the classroom. This year, CCS teachers were awarded over $13,000 for materials and equipment to support science and math standards! Congratulations to the following winners (front row to back row, left to right):

- Janie Jackson – NCES Librarian
- Kelly Tomlinson – NCES Pre-K
- Whitney Hawkins – SCES 6th Grade
- Joan Altobelli – SCES 6th Grade
- DeAna Conrad – CES 4th Grade
- Jodi McCoy – CES Kindergarten
- Patti Shoemaker – CES Kindergarten
- Laura Roop – CES Kindergarten
- Janice Ramsey – NCES Special Education
- Angela Teffeteller – SCES 1st Grade
- Erin Collier – SCES 5th Grade
- Michele Davenport – SCES Special Education
- Lorrie Irwin – SCES 1st Grade
- Vicki Bible – CES 4th Grade

Many thanks to ORAU for their continued support of Clinton City Schools!

Grandparent's Day

Each year, CCS recognizes the important role of grandparents by inviting them to a special lunch at each school. The students get so excited to share a meal with their Grandparents in a school setting. This year, CCS served over 200 Grandparents a special meal of meatloaf or pizza! You can tell by the smiles on these faces that this is a very special day for students, staff, and grandparents. CCS believes that it takes a village to raise a child. It is through the combined efforts of many that our students excel. We appreciate the role that these wonderful grandparents play in the lives of our students and CCS!

CULINARY ARTS

Mr. John Cross, Culinary Arts Instructor from the Morgan County Correctional Facility, on Tuesday, August 22, 2017, spent the day talking with students in Mrs. Pamela Wilson's Culinary Arts classes at Anderson County Career and Technical Center. While his visit was planned for exchanging teacher ideas and information with Mrs. Wilson, his experience working with prison inmates was of great value in helping the students to understand the importance of good decision-making skills NOW, in order to avoid potential problems that lead to arrest and incarceration LATER. Underscoring ACCTC's drive to improve both attendance and ACT scores, as well as enhancing the role that personal-responsibility plays in achieving goals and success in life, were all topics of the day's discussion. Not only did Mr. Cross' visit provide great insight for us all, student engagement was intriguing and apparent.

SHAC Teams

Student input is a key component of our Clinton City Schools wellness program. Each school has its own Student Health Advisory Committee also known as SHAC. This group meets to discuss health initiatives and changes that would make their school healthier twice a semester. You would be amazed at the creative ideas and contributions that these groups make to our Coordinated School Health plan. The information from SHAC meetings is shared with the principals and school leadership teams as a way to promote student ideas to make the school better and healthier. Student leadership is an important part of CCS developing well-rounded students!

 MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

Great Antiques, Music and Food

Jubal "Bonnie, with a deep-seeded exposure to old-time, gospel, blues, and traditional folk of the region, and Taylor Kress with an innate love for history, lyricism, and alternative sounds; Jubal showcases their contrasting influences and backgrounds with strong harmonies and varying writing styles."

Handsome and the Humbles
 "From the echoes of sadness to the heart of hope emerges the music of Knoxville's Handsome and the Humbles... Music made in a sheen of revelatory honesty, Handsome and the Humbles classify best as keepers"
 -Tom Netherland, Bristol Herald Courier.

Grassically Trained "Brandon, Gaden and Duncan have grown up around music all their life with their dad, Kipper Stitt. With their family harmonies and God-given musical talent, they are sure to entertain while you will hear songs you may not expect to hear from bluegrass musicians."

The Beechfork Boys
 "The love of old style Bluegrass shines through these boys' eyes. Pictured are John Byrge, Banjo and Baritone vocals, Travis Wright, Lead Guitar, Luke Marlow, Baritone vocals and Rhythm Guitar, Curtis Maiden, Bass and Bass vocals, maybe even the Wash Tub, and Chris Long, Mandolin."

with a Bounce House, Face Painters and more will be available near the railroad tracks and sponsored by City Lights Church. Musical entertainment will be on the Hoskins/Lane Park stage all day beginning with "The Beechfork Boys" at 9 a.m., "Jubal" at 11 a.m., and "Handsome and the Humbles" at 1 p.m. and "Grassically Trained" at 3 p.m. sponsored by Peoples Bank of the South, ORNL Federal Credit Union and SL Tennessee. Folk Dancing will be led and taught by Barbara and Paul Taylor of Oak Ridge at 10:30 a.m. in the "flat" on Market Street in front of the Hoskins/Lane Park. Our annual re-enactment of the historic Burr-Hamilton duel will be held at 12:30 p.m. in the "flat."

Back for the fourth year will be shuttle service to area parking lots on Saturday. No need to fight the traffic next to the festival. The shuttle is free to ride to and from the event and parking signs downtown will mark the lots where the shuttle will pick up visitors. There will also be a map printed in the Courier News and The Oak Ridger that shows where these parking areas are located. Shuttles are sponsored by Meadowview Senior Living and Butler Bus Lines.

History will come to life through our annual re-enactment of the 1804 pistol duel between Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton. Burr, first term Vice President of the United States under Thomas Jefferson, shot Hamilton, Secretary of the Treasury, in a duel fueled by years of animosity and personal tensions between the two political rivals. Learn what the significance of this duel between national leaders had on Clinton's history and why a town once named Burrville changed its name to Clinton.

The re-enactors from the Anderson County Sons of the Revolution will also have a booth set up on Main Street to display their re-enactment items. There will also be a blacksmith, Christian Holbert, set up doing demonstrations and selling his metal work.

Chamber President Rick Meredith announces, "The Anderson County of Commerce is pleased to present a festival that attracts local, out of town and out of state visitors to our area. This festival supports local businesses, boosts our local economy and encourages visitors to return to the area." The event is being sponsored by SunTrust Bank, Methodist Medical Center and Y-12 Federal Credit Union. Other sponsors include Promo Joe by Jessica, City of Clinton, Fox Toyota, Ray Varner Ford, Rusty Wallace Chevrolet, Peoples Bank of the South, WATE-TV, Clinton Antique Mall, Historic Clinton Antiques, Food City, Anderson Farmer's Co-op and WalMart.
